- 1.19. Cambridge programmes combine an emphasis on mastering subjects in depth with the development skills for study and work in the future. They emphasize deep subject knowledge as well as the conceptual understanding that helps students make links between different aspects of a subject. They also encourage students to develop higher order thinking skills - problem solving, critical thinking, independent research, collaboration and presenting arguments. These are transferable skills that will last a lifetime, preparing students for their future lives. They also make learning enjoyable and rewarding.

2. Taught Curriculum (KS2-KS4)

- 2.1. We currently offer grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 as part of our KS2 curriculum (Primary Stage). Students in these stages study English as a Second Language, Mathematics, Science, Global Perspectives, Music, Art and Design, Computing and Digital Literacy.

Students in this stage have daily interactions with teachers and learn through live lessons which are delivered online. Regular homework and additional tasks are assigned and students' progress is monitored throughout the year.

- 2.2. KS3 students (grade 7, 8 and 9) study the same subjects as they do in the Primary stage (English as a Second Language, Mathematics, Science, Global Perspectives, Music, Art and Design, Computing and Digital Literacy). Students partake in daily live lectures with teachers and are assessed both formatively and summatively at the end of each term.

- 2.3. KS4 students (grade 10 and 11) study five core modules which are English as a Second Language, Mathematics, Biology, ICT and Environmental Management. There are then two optional pathways for students to choose from;

- Students who choose the 'Business Pathway' will study Business and Economics.
- Students who choose the 'Science Pathway' will study Physics and Chemistry.

There is the option for 'mix and match' among all subjects in order to allow students full flexibility to cater to their needs and future goals.

Students are assessed through the course and will also take mock exams in order to prepare them for the external IGCSE examinations which are to be taken at Cambridge examination centres.

- 2.4. The curriculum is translated into three Curriculum Plans (Primary, Lower Secondary, and IGCSE), subject Schemes of Work (SoW) and lesson plans.

3. Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities (SEND)

3.1. Our curriculum places a strong emphasis on inclusivity, ensuring that every child, including those with SEND, receives the necessary support for their educational and social development. Our dedicated Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo) collaborates closely with pupils, their families, external authorities where necessary such as local authorities (LA), disability specialists, and our staff to address individual needs effectively.

3.2. Pupils identified by the Local Education Authority (LEA) for Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) who meet the admission criteria at Eton Academy are welcomed into our inclusive environment. Our Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo) operates within an established framework to create and implement Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) tailored to each pupil's unique requirements for both teaching and assessment, adhering to LEA standards. Additionally, the school accepts international SEND students, verifying their eligibility through reports on students' diagnoses from healthcare professionals and observations by the SENCo.

3.3. We also acknowledge the presence of children with advanced abilities, and our SENDco works closely with our team to ensure these children receive comprehensive support in all learning and development facets.

3.4. Regular monitoring and review processes are implemented to assess the progress of students, enabling necessary adjustments to the curriculum or teaching methods. We highly value parental involvement and maintain open communication channels to keep parents informed about their child's academic and behavioural progress.

- 3.5. Nevertheless, should we determine that a child is unable to engage with our curriculum effectively, we highly recommend enrolling them in a specialised school equipped to handle specific challenges.

6. Curriculum Development Review
- 6.1. The subject curriculum is regularly reviewed within departments to ensure that it is up to date and effectively delivered. The School Principal, Heads of Departments, Student Services and the SEND Coordinator contribute to the development of extracurricular and service activities.
